SELECT POETRY.

CHANGE.

BY MARY S. ALWARD.

Again, after the lapse of years,
I view this sacred place,
But gazing round I recognize
Not one familiar face.
All gone! those cherished loving ones
That used to mingle here,
Whose pleasant words and actions made
Life's pilgrimage so dear.

The same bright streamlet winds along
With rippling music free,
Kissing the smiling flowers that bend
To hear its melody.
Still 'neath the little trellised porch
My fragrant rose-vine weaves
A fairy home for birds and dew
That glitter 'mid the leaves.

Young children play around the door,
And 'neath the dear old tree;
And merry voices melt in song,
But all are strange to me.
Sadly I trace each spot that doth
Some treasured mem'ry bear,
And ask "Where are the absent ones?"
And echo answers "Where?"

Alas! some of that household band,
The dearest and the best,
Have passed as summer flowers away,
And 'neath the graveyard rest.
The first bright flush of rosy morn,
Night's brilliant diadem,
The mystic change of bud and leaf,
Have no more charms for them.

And yet I know, as sure as spring
Shall spread her emerald train,
And re-awake the sleeping earth,
They, too, shall rise again,
All clad in radiant robes of light,
Just such as angels wear,
With starry crowns, and harps of gold:
Oh, shall I know them there?

A BRILLIANT ROMANCE.

SARY TOMPKINS.

BY LIEUT. A. BRICK, B. F. R. (Bare-footed Rangers) Author of "The Spectre Swill tub," "The Last of the Pollywogs," "The Haunted Beer Barrel," &c., &c.

CHAPTER I—THE COUNT.

Deep night in New York! Night, to the high and lowly—the vicious and the wretched—to all, was it deep night! The gas lamps threw a pale and sickly light upon the now almost vacated streets—for it was deep night! Now and then a vigilant watchman crawled out of his favorite drinking saloon, though not very often, to see that nobody had carried off the city.

In a fashionable oyster saloon in Five Points, in a stall, sat two men—one was the Count Alfred de Flunkey—the other, Henry Podgers, son of old Podgers, a wealthy retired clam merchant. The Count de Flunkey was apparently about twenty-eight years old. He was dressed in armor, wore a military cap, with feathers, and his feet were encased in russet boots. His companion, Podgers, was about nineteen. He wore a new suit of ready-made clothing, a white hat, cloth pumps, and—in a word—his appearance spoke the man of fashion. The ordinarily handsome and ingenious countenance of the Count de Flunkey was now covered with a frown. He was abstracted. He would take a spoonful of oyster soup and raise it to his mouth—then, his coal-black eagle eyes rolling wildly the while, he would slubber, like the Arabian charger at his oats, and the soup would drip down upon his mailed breast. At length, bringing his clenched fist down upon the table with tremendous force, the Count cried, "By heaven, Sary Tompkins must be mine! Ho! without there! Bring ten cents' worth of gin."

The gin was brought.

It was drank!

And the Count, telling the bar-keeper to "charge it," left the saloon arm in arm with his friend, the young and accomplished Podgers.

CHAPTER II.

SARY TOMPKINS.

Fifth Avenue! Time, night. Scene, Tompkins, the retired lobster dealer's princely mansion. Bright the gas-lamps shone over fair women and brave men, (this expression is original with the author,) and all went merry as several marriage bells. The spacious and gorgeously furnished set of drawing-rooms of the princely Tompkins, were thronged with the beauty and chivalry of the Fifth Avenue. Like a pure Diamond amidst trinkets of brass, shone Sary Tompkins. The pen refuses its office—and the author must content himself by remarking that she was supremely beautiful. How truly and beautiful has Keats said:

'It's a tarnal hard thing to describe a lovely woman.'

"Count Alfred de Flunkey!" cried a servant in livery.

The Count entered. A smile lit up his noble countenance. Bowing with exquisite grace to the assembled elite, he advanced with lordly strides, towards his betrothed, Sary Tompkins.

The merry night sped on—the silver-winged hours flew by. Still the brilliant assembly at Tompkins' remained. The best feeling prevailed. Wit, sentiment, beauty and chivalry crowned the glowing hours. But, Oh, hark! The bell rings—a huge man, with fiery nose, enters the marble halls of Tompkins. In a voice of thunder, he cries:

"Ladies an' gen'l'men, I'm a perlice-man, an' nothing shorter, an' I'll ax ye if Count de Flunkey is in this ere august 'sembly—'cause if he is, I'm ordered to arrest 'im, unless he immejitly squares up his wash bill with Mrs. Bridget O'Flannigan."

"Fellow, away! Slave, avaunt!" cried the Count de Flunkey, in a voice hoarse with passion and—gin.

"Not by a d—d sight, ole feller; yer must pay this ere bill or go to the toombs!" And the obdurate policeman laughed loudly and defiantly.

Tompkins was bewildered. At length he became highly indignant. He tore his hair and foamed at the mouth. He then, with a terrible jerk, tore off both of his coat tails, and danced with rage, like a Tuscarora savage. Rushing to the Count, he yelled—

"Viper, and this from you? Dog—poltroon—puppy—ain't ye ashamed of yerself?"

With a cry of despair, Sary now rushed forward. Raising herself up to her full height, she said—

"Policemun? How much is this bill?"

"Two dollars and twenty-seven cents, if yer please mum."

"Then, there—there is the sum—take it away—away!" And Sary threw the money at the policeman's feet, and fell into a swoon. She was pulled out by three servants in livery, and the policeman.

Tompkins was an attentive spectator to this heart-rending spectacle. Tompkins had a heart; thirty years intimate association with lobsters had not entirely crushed the finer feelings in his bosom. Tompkins was affected—he wept. Suddenly starting up, he bounded like a gazelle towards Count Alfred de Flunkey.

"Come to my arms, my noble feller," cried Tompkins, and the count was locked in his (Tompkins') arms. It was a moving spectacle. Some of the guests were moved to tears, while others moved to the ante-room, where the brandy and sugar were. Now it was that Sary shone forth with singular brilliancy. Rushing forward to her father and the Count she said—

[This is all of this intensely interesting story that will be published in this paper. The remainder may be found in the Flashy-pash, published by Cute, at the remarkable low price of $2 a year. The Flashy-pash is a tremendous paper. It circulates 3,000,000 copies (more or less) weekly—Corncob writes for it—Brick writes for it—Wiggins writes for it—Biggins writes for it—so does Spriggins. The Flashy-pash may be obtained at all the corner groceries. The next chapter of this story (Sary Tompkins) will inform the reader what Sary said—also what the Count de Flunkey said—and also what she said then.] Toledo Commercial.

A Revolutionary Heroine.

Many will remember that towards the close of the war, Col. Tarleton passed through North Carolina. Owing to some cause not known, he spent two nights in Halifax county, one within the hospitable grove of Willie Jones, near the town of Halifax, and the other higher up the country, near "Quankey Chapel." Either because he was scarce of provisions and horses, or from a malicious desire to destroy the property of American citizens who were opposed to the British, he caught all the horses, cattle, hogs, and even fowls, that he could lay hands on, and destroyed or appropriated them to his own use. The male and most of the female inhabitants of the country fled from the approach of the British troops, and hid themselves in the swamps and forests adjacent; and when they passed through the county, while every one else left the premises on which she lived, Mrs. Powell (then Miss Bishop) "stood her ground," and faced the foe fearlessly.

But it would not do; they took the horses and cattle, and, among the former, a favorite pony of her own, and drove them of, to the camp, which was about a mile distant. Young as she was, she was determined to have her pony again, and, as she must necessarily go to the British camp, to go alone, if no one would accompany her. And alone she went, on foot, at night, and without any weapon of defence, and in due time arrived at the camp.

By what means she managed to gain an audience with Tarleton is not known; but she appeared before him unannounced, and, raising herself erect, said:

"I have come to you, sir, to demand restoration of my property, which your knavish followers stole from my father's yard."

"Let me understand you, Miss," said Tarleton, completely taken by surprise.

"Well, sir" said she, "your roguish men in red coats came to my father's house about sundown and stole my pony, and I have walked alone and unprotected to claim and demand him; and, sir, I must and will have him. I fear not your men; they are base and unprincipled enough to dare to offer insult to an unprotected female; but their cawerdly hearts will prevent their doing her bodily injury."

And just then, by the light of a campfire, espying her own dear little pony at a short distance, she continued:

"There, sir, is my horse. I shall mount him and ride peaceably home; and if you have any of the gentlemanly feeling within you, of which your men are utterly destitute, or if you have any regard for their safety, you will see, sir, that I am not interrupted. But before I go, I wish to say to you, that he who can, and will not prevent this base and cowardly stealing from hen-roosts, stables and barnyards, is no better, in my estimation, than the mean, good-for-nothing, guilty wretches who do the dirty work with their own hands. Good night sir."

And, without waiting further, she took her pony uninterrupted, and galloped safely home, for Tarleton was so much astounded that he ordered that she should be permitted to do as she chose.

Mrs. Powell died in her native county in 1840, after she attained a green old age. One of her grandsons, Wm. S. Parker, volunteered in the Mexican war, and died at Ceralvo, in Mexico. Another, Richard B. Parker, is residing in Halifax county, N. C., a most estimable and worthy citizen. And a granddaughter, Mrs. Mary E. Sledge, (wifeof W. T. Sledge, and sister of the two first named gentlemen,) also lives in Halifax, county, besides other relatives, who all, no doubt, do justice to her memory; but others should do likewise, for she was one of the noble spirits of "the times that tried men's souls."

OLD MR. S—— has a queer way of showing his hospitality. The moment a stranger comes to his house he brings him a pine knot and a jack-knife. S—— is a genuine Yankee, and believes that there is but one pleasure greater than whittling, and that consists of selling shoe-pegs for oats.

Baron Munchausen in America.

A correspondent of Harper's Weekly communicates a conversation between himself and Baron Munchausen, during which that illustrious nobleman confessed the authorship of the London Times' veracious report of "Georgia Railroad Duelling." The Baron's next letter [he has been engaged and sent to America as a regular correspondent of a distinguished London journal] will contain an equally authentic and not less interesting account of a steamboat race on the Mississippi.—

"I started from Louisville, on the splendid steamer Great Blower. Our voyage was quiet, and unmarked by incident until we had passed Cairo, when on one fine morning, we saw a large steamer close in our wake, which proved to be the Screamer, of St. Louis bound for New Orleans. It was a fine sight to see her plow up the water, and bellow from her great steampipes as she rapidly gained on us; but from the increasing speed of both boats, and the excitement among our two hundred passengers, I soon discovered that we were racing. You may imagine my fear, sir, at this discovery, and how gladly I would have got ashore, if that had been possible.

"Our rival was now directly opposite us; the boats nearly touched; the captain of the Screamer shook his fist three times at the captain of the Great Blower; the captain of the Great Blower showed his teeth, with a half bitten oath and a quid of tobacco between them, and then, both captains rushed below. Immediately I saw the hands rolling barrels of lard and tar toward the furnaces. A thick, black smoke belched forth in heavy volumes from the chimneys; the steam pipes groaned hoarsely, making the vast forests on either side roar with the echoes; the wheels spun around with inconceivable velocity; driving our sharp prows through the placid water at a rate of thirty miles an hour. The Screamer gains a little, but it is only a momentary advantage, for 'the hands' of the Great Blower, leaving the heavy logs of wood, are soon bringing down tables, chairs, looking glasses, and whatever else was light and dry, dipping them into the tar barrels and thrusting them into the furnaces. The Great Blower now shoots ahead a foot or two; but the noise of axes is heard; the Screamer men are cutting away their hurricane deck, and pitching the white, dry pine into the glowing grates. The pipes are red hot; the safety-valves are fastened down, when suddenly——"

The Baron wiped his forehead and groaned.

Suddenly, sir, there came a deep, heavy sound, as of rumbling under the crust of the earth, which, quick as a flash, burst into a loud report; and at the same instant (how long that instant!) I saw the hurricane deck where I was standing rise slowly at first (though all in the same second of time) and then shoot with great velocity, carrying myself and fifty others at least five hundred feet in the air. Our flight was so rapid, sir, that I involuntarily put my hand to my hat to keep it from flying off, in doing which, it came in contact with a Yankee's nose, and would you believe it, sir, he drew his revolver, and ejecting a huge lump of tobacco from his mouth, said, "darn your eyes, Ill fix your hash when we get down again."

"As you may imagine, I endeavored to get down first, but, on alighting, I found that long-haired, saffron-faced rascal up to his knees in the swamp, with his revolver cocked, and waiting for me. He threw me another revolver with an oath, telling me to say my prayers quick, and fire as soon as he had counted three.

"I was resigning myself quietly to my fate, when—and would you believe it, sir—a huge piece of the boiler, which had been driven up higher than ourselves, came down and crushed the varmint into the swamp.

"I thanked Providence for my deliverance, and was glad to get on another steamer that was passing."

"And what became of the other boat?" I asked.

"They were both blown up, sir, and one of them sank; but the two captains fell down upon the same wreck. A quarrel immediately ensued, each swearing the boat was his. They were both pointing to a shattered plank with the letters ER upon it, and gesticulating furiously."

"Fool!" says one; "don't you see ER stands for Great BlowER."

"Villian!" says the other gnashing his teeth, "can't you spell S-c-r-e-a-m-ER—Screamer!"

"Out came the bowie knives. Blood flowed. A fearful lunge from his adversary sent the captain of the Great Blower reeling overboard, and in a few minutes we were far away from this awful scene, which is of almost daily occurrence on the Mississippi river!"

PIETY AND PROFIT.—"A few days since," writes 'J. D. E.,' of St. Louis, "in company with one of the best of his race, and a resident of Chanton county, of this State, he told the following anecdote concerning a local preacher in this section, who, being a veritable personage, I will suppress his name. At a social meeting of his fellow chruch members, among other things, each was relating his causes for joy and sorrow, when Mr.—— said: "In my family of children, I have much cause of, joy and also much to distress me. There's my son ——, a good, reverent, dutiful boy; but there's my son Bill, he's an audacious scamp. He left his poor old gray-headed father many a day ago, and it's been a long time since I've heard on him; and when I last heard on him, he was 'way up to the Galeners, a raftin' saw-logs, playing 'seven up' and hoss-racing; but, thank the Lord, he's making money by the trip! Ain't he sister?' 'Yes, brother, he is, and no mistake!'"

"DO YOU LIKE NOVELS?" asked Mrs. Fitzgerald of her backwoods lover.

"I can't say," he replied, "I never ate any; but I'll rell you I'm death on possum."

A California swain writes to his sweetheart thus: "Leven yeres is rether long to kort a gal, but ile hev you yit Cate."

FRIDAY MORNING, : : : : MARCH 13.

Not Arrived Yet.

The delinquent Editor of the GAZETTE has not yet "turned up," although we are in daily expectation of seeing his attenuated form gliding like a shadow among the scenes of his editorial labors. He stated in a letter which we received a few days since that a pressure of business detained him below, but there is a current report here, that the business which detains him, is of a matrimonial nature, and from his protracted stay—coupled with many other suspicious circumstances, we have but little doubt of the truth of the surmise. In case of his bringing home a "blushing bride," we have made extensive arrangements to give him a "stunning" reception.

After a salvo of the heavy artillery, and a volley of Lager Beer bottles, and other small arms, a procession will form in front of this office in the following order:

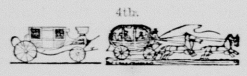

1st.
OLD JACK,
Bearing a Dinner Bell of magnificent proportions.

2nd.
The "DEVIL," bearing a copy of the "GAZETTE" nailed fast to a Billiard cue.

3d.
The Mariposa Band, playing the beautiful air of "Holmes sweet Holmes."

4th.

The BRIDE and BRIDEGROOM, (dressed "fit to kill," and smiling hugely) in two Carriages, drawn by all of Jim Reed's Horses.

5th.
☞ GENTLEMEN OF THE PRESS, ☜
(As chief Mourners.)

6th.
The "Calithumpians," in full force, with all their instruments, playing "Hark from the Tombs."

Lastly.
The rear will be brought up by Citizens of Mariposa, miscellaneously mixed up, without distinction of age, sex or rank.

N. B. Picquet & Co's Brewery will be chartered for the occasion, where the Bride and Bridegroom's health will be quaffed in a glass of Lager.

PANORAMA OF THE WAR IN THE CRIMEA.—Mr. Claveau's beautiful painting of the War in the East, was exhibited last week at Concert Hall. The attendance on the occasion, although it took place during the middle of the week, when many persons were not able to attend, was very fair, but not so large as a painting of this description deserves. Those who have seen it, pronounce it a fine piece of artistic skill. All that is wanting to make this painting appreciated by any audience, is a more minute explanation, which, to have the proper effect, should be given verbally by some person well versed in description. The surrendering of the Malakoff, where the most desperate of the fighting took place, and where many a noble Zouave was made to bite the dust, is given with all the grace and perfection of the Artist's pencil. The flashing of musketry and the gleaming of bayonets, are so vividly portrayed, that we almost imagined ourselves in the scene of conflict.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—On Friday evening last, we had the pleasure of listening to an able and eloquent address from Rev. J. C. SIMMONS, on the subject of Temperance.

Notwithstanding the theme is one which would seem to be exhausted, the remarks of the speaker were interesting and instructive—portraying in vivid colors the evils of intemperance as well as "showing up" to the light of ridicule, many of the follies of its votaries.

COUNTY HOSPITAL.—We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of DRS. CLARKE & HUBBELL, who have lately taken charge of the Mariposa County Hospital. The Hospital is situated in the rear of Goodman & Hubbell's Daguerrian Saloon, and is fitted up with every convenience for the comfort of the indigent sick.

They also have fitted up a private Hospital in the same building, where invalids, not entitled to medical treatment at the expense of the county, will be attended to on reasonable terms.

FIREMEN'S BALL.—The Mariposa Hook and Ladder Company intend giving a Ball in this place, on the 1st day of May. We understand that a committee has been appointed to make the necessary arrangements. We trust the ball-going public will extend to them the liberal patronage they so richly merit.

The Calico Movement.

By reference to our San Francisco and other exchanges, it appears that a large proportion of the female population of California, have gone "raving mad" on the Calico question.

The mania is spreading at a rapid rate, and does not seem to be altogether confined to the ladies. Profound statesmen have grown eloquent on the subject of "Calico." Our gallant representatives have tendered the use of the Legislative Halls to the ladies of Sacramento for a "Calico" Ball. Erudite editors have dilated upon the beauty, neatness and durability of "Calico," and its manifold advantages over more costly material, for dresses.

It would not be at all surprising if, at the next election, our candidates for Legislative honors should be questioned as to their soundness on this "all-absorbing question." But there is also an "anti-Calico party."

A writer in the San Francisco Sun, is out in a long and ably written article, in which he goes into statistics, and shows, to a mathematical certainty, that silk is the cheapest material for dresses!!! The figures by which he proves his proposition, are "too numerous to mention."—We examined his statement carefully, and discovered but two or three errors in his calculations, among which we would venture to suggest, that he allows too much for "trimmins." In the main, however, the article shows a depth of research, and intimate knowledge of the subject, of which even a dressmaker might be proud. After due deliberation we declare in favor of silk, and agree with the writer that "the Calico movement is founded on false principles, and must fall!!"

A friend of ours from San Francisco has recently let us into the secret of the origin of the "mania." He assures us that it was brought about by an extensive dealer in dry goods, who, having a large stock of unsaleable calicoes on hand, that had outlived several generations of fashions—survived various destructive fires, and been exposed many years to the depredations of moths—hit upon the following original plan to get rid of them. He secured the services of a fashionable lady acquaintance, whom, by the tempting bribe of a "love of bonnet," he induced to appear at a ball in a dress made of the coarsest and cheapest piece of goods in his establishment. The consequences were, that, the lady won her bonnet—everybody admired Mrs. ———'s new style of dress—the dealer sold out his six-penny goods at from 50 to 75 cents a yard—a calico ball followed—and finally everybody went Calico mad.

FALL OF A FLUME.—The great flume at Knight's Ferry, which was completed only a few days ago, fell with a terrible crash on Wednesday of last week. A correspondent of the Stockton Argus says, the company having on that day finished the repairs upon the ditch, they were testing the strength of the flume by admitting a full volume of water upon it, and the contractors, feeling confident of its strength, had but just passed over when it went down. But three days previous, the final work upon the structure—the painting of the great cables—was performed, and the workmen, as well as the proprietors and the entire community, were indulging in mutual congratulations on the occasion. The loss will be severely felt, not only by the company, but also by the mining population, who were depending upon it for a supply of water.—The owners of the work have, with characteristic energy, resolved to set about reconstructing it immediately.

THE GREAT IRON STEAMER.—The following are some of the main particulars of the enormous iron steamship now in course of construction on the Thames:—Her whole length is 684 feet; breadth of beam 86 feet; diameter of paddle wheels 121 feet; depth of hold 70 feet; depth of paddle wheel 58 feet; diameter of screw 41 feet. There will be five funnels and seven masts, two of the latter being square rigged. The nominal horse power will be 2,600, but it will work up from 6000 to 10,000. Her measurement will be 23,640 tons. It is expected that her crew will number from 750 to 800 men, including twelve chief officers. She will have accommodations for 20,000 persons, including 4000 first-class passengers; or, if used as a transport, she can carry 15,000 troops and 5000 horses. She is expected to run at the rate of sixteen miles an hour. Surely this is one of the wonders of mechanical power in the nineteenth century.

ANOTHER LUMP.—On Sunday last we were shown a piece of pure gold weighing eleven ounces, taken out of the claim of Weston and Marshall, on Sherlock's Creek. Several other respectable pieces, of from two to four ounces, were found in its immediate neighborhood, and we were assured by one of the partners that the place shows no symptoms of "letting up."

GOOD DIGGINGS.—Mr. John Barkeloo, and two partners, mining on Grizzly gulch, near the head of Missouri gulch, are making from one ounce to twenty dollars per day to the hand. We learn from reliable authority that they recently took out upwards of $900 in seventeen days.

GEOGRAPHICAL PRAYERS.—A New York paper mentions, as one of the results of political and religious Abolitionism, the case of a Yankee minister in San Francisco, who always ends his prayers as follows:

"O, Almighty Father, bless the people of Maine, and of Boston, and all the New England States."

Sacramento Items.

The late decision of the Supreme Court declaring our State debt unconstitutional, has caused a general clamor among the journals of California on the subject of repudiation. We doubt not that the reports carried to the East by our last mail, will cause a great deal of alarm and uneasiness among our Atlantic friends.—Needless alarm, but not altogether groundless. People who are familiar with the past of California, are not surprised at anything which may occur in the future. It will of course be a matter of congratulation to all who have the interest of California in their hearts, or her State scrip in their pockets, to learn that our Legislature have expressed their opinion in favor of legalizing the State Debt, or submitting it to a vote of the people, which will amount to the same thing.

The resolution passed both Houses by a large majority.

The report of the Assembly Committee of Accounts and Expenditures, shows that besides the $124,000 which Prison Brig Rowe refuses to account for, there is a deficiency of $34,140 not accounted for by the late State Treasurer. Some rather rich developements have been made with relation to the financial operations of County Treasurers in various portions of our State. On the delinquent list, we see the Treasurers of Calaveras, Colusi, Humbolt, Klamath, Sonoma, San Mateo, Sierra, Trinity and Stanislaus.

Ned McGowan, the great uncaught, has again "turned up"—this time in Sacramento. At the last accounts Sheriff Scannell was after him with a warrant, and the Judge was again non comatibus. He says he is willing to stand trial, but not in San Francisco.

A bill was passed by the Senate empowering the District Judge to grant a change of venue on the affidavit of the accused, that he cannot be brought within the county for arraignment without peril to his life.

LATER FROM SACRAMENTO.

In the Senate (March 7th) the Committee on Public Lands reported in favor of a bill providing for the cutting of canals, designed to reclaim the Swamp and Overflowed lands in Tulare Valley. The bill grants a certain portion of the lands to the parties who shall construct the canals, and the right to collect fees on them for thirty years. The bill is of great importance to the agricultural interest of California. It was ordered engrossed.

A message from the Governor was then announced, which, after considerable debate, was received, and proved to be a veto of the Appropriation Bill. The Governor stated that he did not veto it on constitutional grounds—that instead of there being money in the Treasury on the 30th of June to meet the appropriations, there would be a deficiency of $300,000.

The Assembly refused to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill, providing for an application by counsel for a change of venue.

Arrest of Another of the Vigilants.

Mr. Myers F. Truett, a prominent member of the Vigilance Committee, was recently arrested in New York City.—Contradictory reports are in circulation with regard to the affair, but from the most reliable sources we learn that the arrest was made at the instigation of Maloney, one of the exiles.

The Vigilance men, who show themselves on the Atlantic side, seem to meet with rather rough treatment at the hands of those whom they furnished with free tickets. There is but little sympathy shown towards them by any class of people there—in fact it seems to be a common amusement among them to stand by and see a Vigilance man get mauled. We do not know whether to attribute this want of sympathy on their part, to the high standing and excellent character of Mulligan, Duane and others, or to the bad odor of the Vigilance Institution, outside of California. Law-abiding people in the older States, can hardly approve of the summary code of Judge Lynch.

Good sometimes comes out of evil, and perhaps beneficial results may flow from the scenes of violence enacted in San Francisco—but we would hardly be envious of the martyr's share, which seems likely to fall to the lot of the prominent leaders of the movement.

THE IMMORTAL 477.—The Hardshell Republicans of San Francisco who voted for Tracy, the regular Black Republican nominee for Senator, have formed themselves into a "Mutual Admiration Club," under the title of the "Republican Association of San Francisco." Among other things, they pledge themselves to support the regular Republican nominations, and to maintain the integrity and organization of the party according to the general usages.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The Harrison (Texas) Flag says that there are 500, or 900 laborers employed upon the two first divisions of this road, and the Vicksburg papers assert that their road to the Texas line, to connect with the Southern Pacific, will be ready for use during the present year, so that the friends of the Pacific road may be able to eat their next Christmas turkey at Marshall in Texas, or at Tyler, thirty miles beyond Marshall, and travel thither on a railroad all the way from the Mississippi river "The work goes bravely on."

CRIME IN TUOLUMNE COUNTY.—There are now eight persons in jail in Sonora awaiting their trial for the crime of murder.

Atlantic News.

The steamer Golden Gate brings dates from New York up to Feb. 5th, but nothing of great interest. The season in the North is represented to be one of the coldest on record; the thermometer in the New England States ranging from 10 to 44 degrees below zero. Harbors, rivers and canals were frozen over. Boston harbor was closed by the ice, but a channel of 300 feet in width was cut, with considerable difficulty, through which the steamer America went to sea, and the Arabia came up. Railroad tracks were blockaded with snow drifts, in some cases twenty-five feet in hight. The cold had extended a long distance South. Baltimore and Philadelphia harbors were frozen up, at the last accounts.

In Congress nothing of interest had transpired. A committee of investigation were engaged in the work of examining the charges of corruption originated by Mr. Simonton, of the New York Times.—An appropriation of $700,000 had been voted for the restoration and maintenance of peace in Oregon and Washington Territories.

The death of Preston S. Brooks had caused a deep sensation in Washington.—Resolutions, tendering to the family of the deceased the sympathy of the House, and testifying their respect for his memory, were unanimously passed.

Divers guesses are made by the knowing ones with regard to the coming cabinet, but the wisest of them are in the dark, as "Old Buck" seems determined to keep his own counsel. Even Bennett of the Herald, is at fault this time, having either lost the gift of "second sight"—so common to his countrymen, or gone "daft" over his investment in the Fremont speculation. His latest political move, is a chapter of prophecies, foretelling the great and glorious results which are to accrue from the administration of Mr. Buchanan.

Thirty columns of the Herald are filled with the particulars of the murder of Dr. Burdell, illustrated with diagrams of the rooms, in the house in which the deed was committed. The diagrams would make valuable additions to "Squibob's San Diego Pictorial," if that beautiful illustrated sheet was not unfortunately defunct.

Crime of all descriptions seems to be rapidly on the increase in New York.—Some decided improvements have been made in the robbing and stealing business, almost reducing the thing to a science. The process of garroting, which consists of choking the victim with a board, cut to fit the neck, and then turning the pockets inside out, abstracting the contents, and leaving the subject to recover at his leisure—seems to have been generally adopted by the "Chevaliers de Industrie."

California, although notorious for rascality, is thrown completely in the shade by the experienced scoundrels of the East. Perhaps the delegation of exiles who were sent there at the expense of the Vigilance Committee may have something to do with it. Some of the New York press seem rather disposed to grumble at the San Franciscans for making a penal settlement of the moral city of Gotham. We venture to assert that most of the banished are "perfectly at home" there.

E. A. ROWE.—This stubborn individual, on Thursday of last week, made his fifth application for release on habeas corpus. The case was argued before Judge Terry of the Supreme Court, who refused his application, and he was remanded to prison until he makes up his mind to tell what he did with the missing $124,000. He still declares it to be his determination to "rot in prison" before he will answer the questions propounded by the Grand Jury. Let him rot.

DEPARTURE OF THE STEAMERS.—The Steamers Golden Age and Orizaba left San Francisco on the 5th inst. The former taking two hundred and seventy passengers, and treasure to the amount of $1,442,579. The Orizaba carried less than two hundred passengers, among whom were a number of recruits for Walker.

INSANE ASYLUM.—Of the parties admitted to the State Insane Asylum during the past three months, says the Town Talk, 31 were Americans and 8 foreigners. At least two-thirds of those now in the Asylum are foreigners. The average age of male patients in the Asylum is 30 years; average of female patients, 33 years; age of youngest patient, 9 years; age of oldest patient, 47 years. There are but two cases of idiocy in the Asylum, both are brothers from Fresno county.—The whole number of patients under treatment at the present time is 227, of whom 37 only are females.

THE STEAM WAGON.—This fine piece of mechanism which is the admiration of all who have seen it, is now on exhibition at Sacramento to crowded houses. From the notices it has elicited in the different parts of the State, of persons who are considered competent judges, we have no doubt as to its practicability.

MINING CASUALIES.—Alexander Davis was crushed by a large rock while mining on Rich Piont, Trinity county. He was from Kentucky, and twenty-two years of age....George Wilcox was killed by the caving of a bank in Yuba county. He was thirty-two years of age.

SHEEP.—Danial Gibb & Co. are expecting three hundred and twenty-two pure merino ewes and twenty-five pure Saxon rams from Australia, imported for the purpose of improving the stock of the State.

The Gila Copper Mines.

We clip the following particulars of the recently discovered Copper mines, on the Gila, from the Chronicle of the 6th inst:

These mines were discovered in the early part of 1856 by Mr. Richard Halstead, well known in the Gadsden Purchase as an indefatigable and able prospector. They are situated about twenty-four miles from the junction of the Gila with the Colorado, on the left bank, southern side, of the Gila, and two miles from the river. Immediately after the discovery, Mr. Halstead communicated the fact to Messrs. Hunton and partner, the well-known firm at Fort Yuma, who with Lieut. Mowry, of the U. S. Army, advanced sufficient funds to thoroughly prospect and open the mines.

The result, thus far, has justified all their expectations. Several experienced Mexican miners, under the direction of Mr. Halstead, have been employed for the past six weeks with the most flattering success—a shaft has been sunk some thirty feet, and a lode of copper ore about fifteen inches in thickness is being steadily worked Several other veins, one certainly much larger than the one mentioned, have been opened sufficiently to test their richness and probable extent. An assay by Wass, Moliter & Co., gave of metallic copper a per centage of fifty-six one hundredths, and two others by Justh & Hamilton gave fifty-seven and fifty-five per cent.

The great advantage in the location of this mine must make it immensely valuable. The ore or smelted copper can be transported on flatboats down the Gila to the junction of the Colorado and Gila, whence it can be carried by steamboats now running on the river, and delivered on board vessels at the head of the gulf at eighty dollars a ton, a rate which would defy competition from any distant part of the Gadsden Purchase. It is proposed immediately by the present owners of the mine, to put a limited number of shares into the market upon the shipment of the first ore. This account we have from a well known gentleman who recently visited the mine.

NEW POSTAGE LAW.—The following is a synposis of the new postage law recently passed by Congress:

1. Books may be sent in the mail, prepaid, for one cent an ounce; provided they do not weigh over four pounds, a distance of three hundred miles, and over that distance two cents an ounce.

2. Newspapers, periodicals, pamphlets, &c., to one address, and weighing at least eight ounces, half a cent an ounce.

4. Every circular, business card, advertisement, transient newspaper, or other printed matter, one cent a sheet—not to weigh over three ounces.

4. Postmasters are not required, even as a matter of courtesy, to deliver papers or packages to clubs, unless they come regularly addressed by mail.

The other requirements are merely directory of postmasters' duties.—Town Talk.

FRIDAY MORNING:::::: MARCH 13.

LOCAL.

So far as heard from, our county is enjoying a season of remarkable quiet. The returns are not in from some of the small precincts, but from all accounts the mining population are zealously improving their opportunities, and receiving a fair remuneration for their labor.

We are indebted to distant places for all our catalogue of "shocking crimes"—"terrible catastrophies"—"shocking accidents"—which make up the startling list.

This season of quiet and repose—although undoubtedly a disappointment to the legion of item-catchers down below, who look with great anxiety for something horrible to "turn up" in Mariposa county, is a source of gratification to us. We hope the day is far distant when it will be our lot to chronicle any of the violent acts for which our county has been occasionally noted. For the gratification of those of our readers who want an occasional item of the marvellous or astonishing kind, we shall make free use of the scissors, and clip from our exchanges—many of which are overstocked with that kind of "local." In the mean time, if some of our "many admirers!" will get up a small chunk of a funny fight—nothing serious you know—between this time and our next issue, they will confer a favor on their obedient servant, who will take great pleasure in making a note of it. If it occurs in sight of our office we shall feel doubly grateful—and if it should be severe enough to make a tolerable case of assault and battery, we pledge our sacred honor that they will receive the thanks of many of the legal profession with whom business at present is remarkably dull.

THE WASHINGTON BRASS BAND.—On Monday evening the Mariposa Band were out giving a general serenade, and in the course of the evening called at our office and gave us a specimen of their music. As we are always "moved by the concord of sweet sounds," the music they discoursed was duly appreciated. We tender the gentlemen of the Band our thanks for the compliment.

The Ball on the first of April is for their benefit, and we hope the public will give them the liberal patronage they deserve.

GRANDILOQUENT LECTURE.—We have been informed that old JACK, the veritable and redoubtable Knight of the Boot Black, intends "spreading" himself on Saturday evening, on the following subjects: "Hica-Phoby, Tapeworms and Vegetable Pisens." He will also perform several tricks in legerdemain, such as picking up scents with his nose, &c.—Panegyric or eulogy from us as to his abilities, would be superfluous, and the mere mention of his name is a sufficient guarantee that his subjects will be fully dissected.

The Tehauntepec Route.

By the New Orleans papers we learn that there is no doubt of the speedy completion of the road across the Isthmus of Tehauntepec. In fact, according to the statement of the Delta it is now completed. Arrangements have already been made for the transportation of passengers and mails. The entire distance across, from the Gulf of Mexico to that of Tehauntepec, is said to be less than one hundred and fifty miles—a portion of which is made by steamer, up the river Coatzcoalcos, so that the transit can be made in two days. The route is estimated to be a saving of distance, of at least twelve hundred miles; and the time in which mails and passengers can arrive from the Atlantic States, from fourteen to sixteen days. The climate on the Isthmus is represented to be delightful, and the natives friendly and hospitable.

With all these advantages, we see no reason why this should not be the favorite route.

ARTESIAN WELL.—The Artesian Well which was commenced in Stockton several years ago, but was suspended for a short time for want of funds to carry out the project, is progressing slowly. They have now reached the depth of 600 feet, and from the San Andreas Independent, we learn that a warm stream of cloudy water (about one-tenth of a sluice-head,) swiftly flows from the tubing. It is the intention of the undertakers to continue the enterprise, until some sufficient hight and volume of water is obtained for all city purposes, which may not be until the well reaches a depth of 1,200 feet.—At present, the augur is going through soft blue clay.

CAPITAL EXCUSE.—In New York city, if a man remain out late o nights, and return home after "fighting the tiger," (i. e., gaming,) minus a few hundred dollars, he forthwith pretends to have been "garroted." That's the latest style of deception. Only fancy the sympathy of his friends—the double-proof tenderness of his wife—the affectionate condolence of his creditors, and—the difficulty he must experience in keeping his countenance amid so much of the luxury of domestic existence!

☞We are indebted to Hon. S. A. MERRITT, of the Senate, and Hon. D. SHOWALTER, of the Assembly, for late public documents.

How Lager Beer Originated.

Many years ago, a shoemaker, in a small town, near Bamberg, Germany, sent his apprentice to get a bottle of Bamberg beer, (small beer,) which was sold in that place; but the boy, not knowing this, went to the city itself; on returning, he met an acquaintance of his, who told him, that when he would come home, his 'boss' would whip him for staying out so long. The poor boy, who was frightened at this, thought it better not to go home at all, but took his bottle, buried it under a tree, and ran away. He then went among the soldiers, where he distinguished himself, so that in a short time he became an officer. When one day his regiment was quartered in this small town, the officer thought it proper to pay a visit to his old boss, but not before he had got the bottle of beer which he had buried some years ago under the tree. When he entered, he said, "Well, sir, here I bring you the bottle of Bamberg beer that you sent me for." The shoemaker, not knowing what this meant, was told by the officer all about it. The bottle was then opened, and the beer found to be of a superior quality. When this fact was known, some of the brewers built deep vaults, where they put their beer in, and called this, after it had lain there for some time, lager, which means nothing more than lying. The officer afterwards married the daughter of the shoemaker, and drank, as I am told, a good deal of lager beer, receiving in that occupation the assistance of his father-in-law.

EMBEZZLEMENT CASE.—A young man named Jervis Waldron, late a clerk in the Express office of Wells, Fargo & Co., of this city, is charged with having embezzled the sum of $8,000 from the funds of his employers. The accused resigned his situation some days since, intending to go to the East on one of the steamers of yesterday. The fraud, as alleged, was detected by a gentleman who assumed the duties of Waldron when he left. The accused, it is said, had enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his employers, and the discovery was quite unexpected.—Waldron remains locked up at the Police station, not having been able to procure bail.—Daily Globe.

CARSON VALLEY.—We take the following summary of "news from the valley," from the Daily Town Talk.—

The expressmen arrived in Placerville on Tuesday evening last, having left the valley on the 1st. They report the Indians in Wash-ho Valley were getting troublesome, but the inhabitants were prevented following them, as the snow was three feet deep.

A ball came off on the 22d Feb., but the Saints were not present, having been prohibited from mingling with the Gentiles. There was a rumor in both Carson and Wash-ho, that the Mormons had been ordered to return to Salt Lake this spring. Some of those who came out last fall and purchased valuable ranches, are now offering them for sale. The people of the valley are out of boots. Mr. Thompson left Placerville on Friday, on his return, with fifty pounds of mail matter and freight.

ACCIDENTS IN NEVADA COUNTY.—The Nevada Democrat gives the following chapter of accidents which have lately occurred in the town of North San Juan in that county:

On Thursday last, a man named William Thompson, a Scotchman by birth, was killed while working in the claims of the Union Tunnel Company, on Manzanita Hill, by the fall of a bank of earth, which, forcing before it a large mass of mud and water, covered the unfortunate man and carried him with it through the tunnel, some four or five hundred feet to the ravine below. Some time elapsed before he was extricated, as the entire mass had to be searched to find him—of course, life was extinct. His wife is now on her way to this country. A man had his thigh broken, the same night, by falling from a log while crossing the King Cut, in that town. He fell a distance of twenty feet. The next day two men, Messrs. Conner and Meredith, were blown up by a premature blast, while at work in a tunnel. Mr. Conner's arm was sadly shattered, rendering amputation above the elbow necessary. Mr. Meredith was much injured about the face, and it was supposed for a time that he would lose his eyes, but strong hopes are now entertained of his recovery.

SLOPED.—The Sacramento Bee says that Frank Haney, formerly Harbor Master of Sacramento, and assignee of H. Polley & Co., has put out with $12,000.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞JUSTICE'S BLANKS.—Every description of Justice's Blanks, just printed, and constantly on hand and for sale at this office. Also, Blank Constable Sales, etc.

☞DR. L. J. CZAPKAY.—We would direct the especial attention of Invalids to the perusal of Dr. L. J. Czapkay's advertisement; to be found in another column of this paper, to place the services of a learned and experienced Physician within their reach. So much ill has been inflicted on the human family from the pernicious and ignorant practices of empirics, that it seems as if we were fulfilling a bounden duty to make known where judicious relief can be obtained. To those unfortunate enough to suffer from the effects of sexual or private diseases, or their ill-treatment, we cheerfully commend Dr. L. J. Czapkay as a man of rare scientific and medical acquirements—possessing all the requirements, from long experience and acknowledged skill, for the successful practice of his profession. Having made sexual complaints his especial study, like the celebrated Ricord, of Paris, he is enabled to guarantee a speedy and permanent cure in all cases of private or chronic disease, whether the effect of contagion, self abuse, or loss of virility, and in order that patients at a distance may avail themselves of his advice, free consultation by letter is open to them. The knowledge we have of the numerous cures he has effected, some of which were of long standing, leads us to place much faith in Dr. C.'s efficacy, and commend him to the confidence of those in ill-health. f13 3m

VARIETY.

The Folly of it.

O, what a deuced horrid head-
-ache! This thing really can't be borne;
It's no use tossing here in bed;
I must get up and take a Seid-
-litz powder, or a "horn,"
-lits powder, or a "horn!"

Those juleps must have been a dem
Sight stronger than my usual cup;
And yet, I hardly think 'twas them;
It must have been that cursed lem-
-onade that sewed me up,
-onade that sewed me up!

I won't go on another "bat!"
I don't admire the afterclap,
I'll throw away this banged up hat,
And cut the bar-rooms most emphat-
-ically dead, perhaps,

"Go it while you're Young."—This appears to be the motto of the youth of the present age. Yes, go it while you're young, no matter if you violate every law of nature, no matter if you palsy the nerves of youth, no matter if you weaken the mind which God has given you, no matter if you peril your immortal soul.—Go it while you're young. Life is short at the best, and a few years more or less makes no difference. Go it, and show your recklessness of life, by laughing to scorn all the laws which should regulate your existence. Go it, peril your soul and scoff at the goodness of God, by showing that you entertain no fear of caloric, or, in the language of a drunken boy whom we met in the streets a few nights ago, "Hurrah for h—l, who's afraid of fire?"

Yes, go it while you're young—smoke your cigar, chew your tobacco, drink your whiskey, spend your nights in revelry and licentiousness, and be a man. Yes, by all means, go it—laugh at the old fogies who tender you advice—tell your father he is not fast enough for this progressive age, and when your mother remonstrates with you upon late hours, inform the "old lady" that in your opinion women are weak minded, and know very little of what is proper for a man.

Yes, by all means, "Go it while you're young," for rest assured, that "when you get old you can't." Plant the seeds of dissipation in the garden of your heart, and if the devil don't reap the fruits of your husbandry, we are not a true prophet, that's all. Go it while you're young.
—Mobile Register.

"So here I am, between two tailors," said a dandy at a public table where a couple of young tailors were seated, who had just begun business for themselves. "True," was the reply, "we are new beginners, and can only afford to keep one goose between us."

Present Fashions.—
"Bonnet on the shoulders,
Nose up to the sky,
Both hands full of flounces,
Raised a la Shang high.
Under-skirts bespattered,
Look amazing neat,
All your silks get 'watered'
Sweeping down the street!"

"No, I Havn't Begun to Fight!"—Such was the language of Paul Jones, when the British commander asked him if he had surrendered. Although his decks were slippery with blood, his ship on fire, his guns dismounted, and his colors shot away, Paul Jones, with an immortal heroism, kept up the fire.

"Do you surrender?" shouts the English captain, when he saw that the colors of the 'Bon Homme Richard' were gone from the mast-head.

There was a lull in the conflict for an instant—

"And the boldest held his breath."

as Paul Jones, with blood and powder stains, waved his sword, and gave the memorable answer:

"No; I have not begun to fight!"

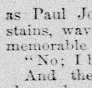

And the result was that the battle changed, and in a few moments the British frigate struck her colors and surrendered, and Paul Jones, leaping from his own sinking vessel, stood victorious upon the royal deck!

"Pat, you have dated your letter a week ahead. It is not so late in the month by one week, you spalpeen!"

"Troth, boy, indade, an' it's jist meself that wanted sweet Kathleen to get it in advance of the mails. 'Shure, I'll not care if she gets it three days afore it is written, me darlint."

San Francisco Advertisments.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S
GRAND MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE.

ARMORY HALL BUILDING,

Corner of Montgomery and Sacramento sts., San Francisco.

Established for the Permanent Cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, and the suppression of quackery.

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, and late Lecturer on diseases of Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children has opened his institute for the cure of all forms of private diseases, such as syphilis, gonorrhœa, nocturnal emissions, and all the consequences of self-abuse. In the first stages of syphilitic or gonorhœal diseases, he guarantees a cure in a few days, without inconvenience to the patient or hindrance to his business. When a patient, by neglect or improper treatment, has developed the symptoms of secondary syphilis, such as bubœs, or painful swellings of the groins, or ulcers in the throat or nose, which if not checked, destroy the soft parts and cause the bones to mortify, separate and come away, leaving the sufferer heidous to behold; or when splotches and pimples break out upon the skin, or when he has painful swellings upon the bones, or when his sonstitution is injured so as to predispose to consumption or constitutional disease, the Doctor guarantees a cure or asks no compensation.

In rheumatism, chronic or acute, in dysentery or diarrhœa, he has safe and effectual remedies. For the treatment of the consequences of self-abuse, such as nocturnal emissions, nervousness, timidity, headache, pains in the back and limbs, with general weakness, loss of appetite, loss of memory, injury to the sight, restlessness, confusion of ideas, dislike for society, and a feeling of weariness of life, with the nervous system so exciteable that slight noises shock or startle the patient, making his existence miserable. For the above maladies the Doctor will guarantee a cure or ask no compensation. He can be consulted free of charge, and invites all to call, as it will cost them nothing, and may be much to their advantage.

A Tribute to Merited Worth.

☞ A TESTIMONIAL RICHLY MERITED.—The ingratitude of man to his fellow man is so often met with in life, that testimonials, prompted by the finer feelings of the heart, are oasis in the life of those who sacrifice their best days in philanthropic devotion to the alleviation of the ills of frail mortality. Empiricism floods the columns of our press with fraudulent and fictitious letters; singing peans to the worth of their own egotistical charlatanism. Below we append a letter from a worthy man, who, a brief period since, seemed destined to "shuffle off this mortal coil;" who looked forward to his dissolution with that pleasure which only those weighed down by the heavy hand of disease can. Contrary to hope, the ability of a skillful physician has restored him to his former health. Relieved from his terrible situation, and impelled by gratitude, he makes known his case and remedial agent, and his statement is authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of society imperiously command its publicity; and it is given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praises of a physician of whom scores of like cases can be cited:

CERTIFICATE.

The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practice of uncontrollable passion in youth; depressed in body and mind; unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the daily avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease of trifling importance—but alas! after a few weeks, and in several instances months, of their treatment, I found to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief, the symptoms became more alarming in their torture; and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicines would be of little consequence. I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy; and as a last resort and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by this result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear, my ideas collected; the constant pain in my back and groins; the weakness of my limbs; the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement; the misanthropy and evil forebodings; the self-distrust and want of confidence in others; the incapability to study, and want of resolution; the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared; and in fact, in two months after having consulted the Doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand.

With a view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured, by my own experience, that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected. B. F. FILLMORE.

State of California, County of San Francisco. Subscribed and sworn before me, this 17th day of April, 1856. (Signed) JOHN MIDDLETON, [L. S.] Notary Public.

A CARD.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public, a case which deserves a high commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly and from some cause unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expense consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the failures which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (as I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of a physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render me assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the misery of my existence. While in this state, and having previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him my circumstances, and my inability to reward him for all his services, regardless of which, however, he at once undertook the case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and to all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.

[L. S.] Meyer Yablonsky.

State of California, County of San Francisco.—Subscriqed and sworn before me, this 1st day of August, 1856. Gilbert A. Grant, [L. S.] Notary Public.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

GREAT BLESSING TO MANKIND!—Innocent but potent! Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Prophilacticum, (self-disinfecting agent,) a sure preventive against gonorrhœal and syphilitic diseases, and an unsurpassed remedy for venerial, scrofulous, gangrenous and cancerous ulcers, fœtid discharges from the vagina, uterus and urethra, and all cutaneous eruptions and diseases. As innoculation is a preventive against small-pox, so is Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Prophilacticum a preventive against syphilitic and gonorrhœal diseases. Although harmless in itself, it possesses the power of chemically destroying the syphilitic virus, and thereby saving thousands from being infected by the most loathsome of all diseases. Let no young man who appreciates health be without Dr. Czapkay's Prophilacticum. It is in very convenient packages, and will be found convenient to use, being used as a soap. Price $5. For sale at Dr. Czapkay's Private Medical and Surgical Institute, Armory Hall, corner of Montgomery and Sacramento streets, San Francisco.

All orders must be addressed to L. J. Czapkay, M. D., San Francisco, California.

J. Czapkay. His method of curing diseases is new, (unknown to others,) and hence the great success. All consultations, (by letter or otherwise) free. Address L. J. Czapkay, M.
